[S. J. Res. 60]

JOINT RESOLUTION

Providing for acceptance by the United States of America of an instrument for the amendment of the constitution of the International Labor Organization.

Whereas the United States of America is a member of the International Labor Organization, having accepted membership in the Organization pursuant to authority granted by the joint resolution approved on June 19, 1934 (48 Stat. 1182; 22 U.S.C. 271); and

Whereas the United States of America accepted the revised constitution of the Organization adopted by the twenty-ninth session of the International Labor Conference on October 9, 1946, pursuant to authority granted by the joint resolution approved on June 30, 1948 (62 Stat. 1151; 22 U.S.C. 271 note); and

Whereas the International Labor Conference, considering the desirability of increasing the size of the governing body of the International Labor Office to take account of increases in the membership of the Organization and of deleting a provision of the constitution rendered unnecessary by developments in recent years, adopted for this purpose at Geneva on June 22, 1962, at its forty-sixth session an instrument for the amendment of the constitution of the International Labor Organization; and

Whereas the delegation of the United States of America to the forty-sixth session of the International Labor Conference unanimously supported the aforesaid instrument of amendment, which was approved by 309 votes to 0, with 1 abstention: Therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President is hereby authorized to accept on behalf of the United States of America the instrument for the amendment of the constitution of the International Labor Organization adopted at Geneva on June 22, 1962, by the International Labor Conference at its forty-sixth session.

Approved July 17, 1963.
